Currently, there are ongoing debates in various international fora on the possible reform of investor-State dispute settlement (ISDS). With a view to contributing to such debates, invitations have been sent to regional and international leading practitioners, academics and senior government officials (including officials from the Ministry of Commerce and Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the People's Republic of China) to come together and discuss various important topical issues including investment mediation, appeal mechanism for ISDS, third party funding in ISDS, appointment of and rules on arbitrators, as well as permanent investment court, thereby facilitating relevant policy making in Asia.
